Insider tips

- The canyon is an hour drive from Interlaken
- There are no facilities at the start of the trip, we get changed in an open field. It helps to have your swimwear on underneath your clothes before you depart Interlaken.
- This trip is suitable for active and confident people who are capable swimmers
- There are multiple jumps up to 10m (32ft) depending on water levels
- There are multiple slides up to 15m (49ft) depending on water levels
- This canyon is sensitive to weather conditions, and doesn't run after or during wet weather
- There are no exits for people who decide this isn't the right trip for them. Please do not book this trip as a surprise for other people unless you are certain about their confidence and abilities.

Weather

Our canyoning tours can be affected by weather conditions and water levels, however it is difficult to predict exactly how a trip will be impacted until the day of the activity. We monitor conditions carefully to stay within our safety limits, and bad weather doesn't necessarily mean we have to cancel.

Please make sure we have good contact information for you so we can reach out if your trip is changed or cancelled due to poor conditions. If you have not heard from us, it means we are still planning to run your trip as scheduled, or we have not yet made a final decision based on the forecast.

If we are not able to run your trip, we will try to accommodate you on another date, another activity, or we will issue you a full refund.

For detailed advice on how to prepare for (and enjoy!) bad weather days in Interlaken, check out our → weather blog

Cancellations

Cancellation requests must be made at least 48 hours before trip time to be eligible for a refund. For more details regarding our cancellation policy, please see our full → Terms and Conditions
